Discovering Fiji: Baba - Levuka

Levuka’s pot of gold

By PAULA TAGIVETAUA

By 1867, Levuka town, hidden under a canopy of coconut trees and frangipani in Balia, the north of the old capital, was a key point in the establishment of a capital.

It was the land of the Leleka, the Tuimelua, and the Tui Levukaректа, who had put their homeland, Levuka, on the map of the world.

They had gone to Bagua, now known as Ba, to marry women of the town.
